About Gavin Burner

Gavin Burner supported people with disability to:

- have their say
- be heard.

Gavin was an important member of the Independent Advisory Council (IAC).

The IAC give advice about ways to make the NDIS better.

He also helped run the Intellectual Disability Reference Group.

A Reference Group is a group of people who give us advice about a certain topic.

Gavin focused on making life better for people with disability in places very far away from cities and towns.

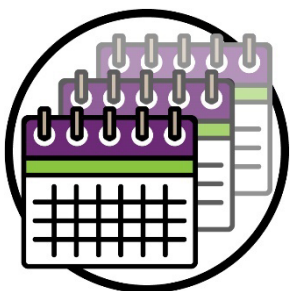

Everyone who met Gavin was better for it.

One of Gavin's passions was making the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) better.

He had a lot of experience and ideas about how to do this.

Gavin's impact on the NDIS will last a very long time.

Gavin believed in following your dreams and living a better life.

We will miss Gavin and his work for:

- the IAC

- the NDIS.

Our thoughts and best wishes are with Gavin's family and friends at this time.
