Inclusion Australia, the NDIA and Department of Social Services (DSS) has launched a new website, the Supported Decision-Making Hub .

The Hub is a central home for resources about supported decision making.

'Supported decision making' means helping people make decisions about their goals, supports and lives. This gives people more control over the things that are important to them.

The Hub has information across 12 different categories, including NDIS decisions, employment, health and accommodation.

This video will show you how you can use the hub.

Transcript for 'Introducing the Supported Decision Making Hub'

Everyone has the right to make decisions that affect their life. That's why we're making the NDIS easier to understand and use.
