11 December 2018

This test website has been developed after extensive consultation and user testing with participants, families, carers, providers and sector representatives.

Some of the features you might be interested in include:

- a simplified structure aligned to the participant pathway
- a new and adaptable design making it easier to access the site on mobile devices
- improved search functionality, making it easier to find local information sessions, partner and NDIA office locations and roll out details
- a clearer layout of information to explain key NDIS information and processes.

The website is still in testing and development and we welcome your feedback, we will continue to make improvements.

The main website continues to be the primary source of information.

You will notice that we've restructured content to make it easier to understand and find, and some of the pages have been simplified. There have been no changes to the way we deliver the NDIS.

We look forward to your feedback and to delivering a better, more accessible website.

Related articles

New and improved NDIS website

Date
11 December 2018

Enhanced NDIS website launched

Date
22 January 2019

New website launched

Date
22 January 2019

Read more news