The NDIS works with suitably experienced and qualified partner organisations to deliver local area coordination and the early childhood approach to Australians with disability, including children with developmental delay. They are the face of the NDIS in the community.

If you are between the ages of 9 and 64 years of age, call the local area coordination partner in your local government area. They will be your main contact point for the NDIS.

If you have a child younger than 6 with developmental delay or younger than 9 with disability, call the early childhood partner in your local government area.

The early childhood partner will be your main contact point for the NDIS and will help you understand and access the most appropriate supports for your child.

New early childhood community partner in the Ovens Murray area

Latrobe Community Health Service Limited is the new early childhood partner in the Ovens Murray service area, taking over from Holstep Health.

Latrobe Community Health Service has been a partner in the community since 2016 delivering early childhood and local area coordination services in Victoria and New South Wales.

We have extended current agreements with partners in the community until 30 June 2027, and Latrobe Community Health Service will deliver early childhood services until then.

There will be no changes for participants and their families and carers because their current NDIS plan will remain the same. They can continue to use all their support and services.

We will work together with Holstep Health and Latrobe to ensure participants do not experience any disruption to supports.

For any questions, email us at enquiries@ndis.gov.au or call us on 1800 880 110.

Partner office operations and temporary closures
