The NDIA recently hosted a webinar to talk about self-management, the video and transcript of the event is now available.

A new self-management guide was launched on the day, providing more support for those who self-manage their plans, or answer some of the questions for people considering self-management.

The webinar gave participants, families and carers the opportunity to hear about self-management - how it works and the benefits - from families and people who are self-managing their NDIS plan.

The panel was facilitated by Matthew Wright and included Dr Sam Bennett, General Manager, Strategic Advisors and Research, Marita Walker, Branch Manager, Scheme Innovation, Jan Kruger, parent of Jack, NDIS Self-Managed Participant and Kristie McCarthy, NDIS Self-Managed Participant.
