

A person with disability or child with developmental delay applying for the NDIS

24/03/2023, 07:35

After working with your NDIS partner to connect with community and mainstream supports in your area, you may decide to submit a NDIS application to see if you are eligible to become a Scheme participant.

Your NDIS partner will talk to you about the NDIS eligibility criteria, the application process, the kinds of information and evidence you need to provide, and what to expect from this process, including when you will know whether you are eligible.

Your NDIS partner will help you complete your application for the Scheme.
