

Learn to raise your voice and be heard.

These introduction to self-advocacy workshops will help you:

- identify barriers that can be present when self-advocating.
- develop skills and resources to work through the challenges of advocating for yourself.
- build peer support groups within your community.
- recognise and celebrate self-advocacy champions.

Your input will also help us to further develop our self-advocacy workshops and resources.

These online sessions will be hosted on Microsoft Teams and help people with disability develop the skills and resources needed to be aware of their rights and feel comfortable to advocate for themselves.

Closed captioning is available.
